

HUL, P&G voted as dream cos

NEW DELHI: FMCG sector is the most favoured employment option for young management students, with 44% of those graduating in 2010 calling giants like Hindustan Unilever and Proctor & Gamble as "dream companies", a survey said. "The fast moving consumer goods (FMCG) sector has once again emerged as the industry of choice for this session management graduates, with 44% students graduating in 2010 voted it as their most-preferred industry," the Nielsen Campus Track B School Survey revealed. Over 60% students are considering to apply in these two companies for jobs, while 64.2% management students are considering to send job applications in Hindustan Unilever, 60.9% wished to apply for Proctor & Gamble.